Dear Sir or Madam,

I enclose your comments card. Normally I would never complete one of these as usually there is always something that lets you down when out for a meal. However I can't say that about Coia's Café.

A relative of mine has just moved into the area from up north and I have visited a couple of times already. On my first visit we actually went into the city for a meal, however this time I was keen to give your place a go having been impressed by the welcoming look of the establishment.

I myself am a Glaswegian from the south west side of the city and was only ever over in Duke Street a few times. Hence my limited knowledge of this side of the city....Glasgow is a big city afterall. I have been away 30 years and on the many times I have been back it was only ever to the south west or to the city centre itself. There just wasn't the need to venture over to this side. My loss indeed.

On arrival on Saturday morning to Dennistoun we actually came in for a late small breakfast consisting of a glasgow roll and sausage.....they just don't know up North what the proper thing is!!

My wife and I agreed then that we would return at night for our evening meal with our relatives.

The whole experience was first class from the initial entry to when we left. The manner of your staff was exceptional and the service and quality of your food was superb. A most pleasurable time was had by the four of us. You can be rest assured that on the many occasions that I will be down to Glasgow whether to the south west side or indeed Dennistoun I will certainly if at all possible give Coia's Café a visit.

I will surely recommend your establishment to friends and family.
Please pass on my hearty thanks to all staff..

Eric Maitland
